ADAM AND EVE.

When Adam was created, he dwelt in Eden's garden. As Moses had related, a bride there soon was made. Ten thousand times ten thousands of creatures trembled around. Before a bride was formed, or a man mate had found.

He had no conversation, but seemed like one alone. Till to his admiration, he found he had lost his bride. Great was his exultation when first he saw

Miss Mary Gage, of Grenada, Miss., who graduated last week, and has been at the College since left yesterday, accompanied by Miss Annie Westfall, for a trip to Mammoth Cave before returning to her home. Miss Westfall will spend the summer in Minnesota, and return in the fall, much to the gratification of the pupils and patrons of Bethel Female College.

CADIZ INSTITUTE.

The closing exercises of Cadiz Institute terminated Thursday night of last week with a public entertainment, and the graduation of two young ladies. Prof. H. B. Wayland, the Principal, has been in Cadiz for twenty-five years and the last session was one of the most prosperous ones. His school is one of which Cadiz should be justly proud. The entertainment of last week was highly enjoyed by an immense audience. Music for the occasion was furnished by the Princeton brass band. The exercises consisted of recitations, declamations, choruses, compositions, etc.

Misses Emma Reed, of Belleview, and Georgia Darnall, of Cadiz, having completed the course of study in the institution received diplomas. The salutatory was read by the senior and the valedictory by the latter. Prof. Wayland was ably assisted during the last session by Miss Nannie Duncan and Mrs. Wayland. The school will re-open in September and the prospects for another prosperous session are very flattering. May the school continue to receive the encouragement it so richly deserves.

Ball of Honor.

The following is a list of the pupils of Woodville School, who obtained an average of 90 or above during the last division of the term.

Kate Thompson, Edgar Radford, Roxie Ford, Willie White, Mary Boyd, Ernest Stoger, Finny Ford, Emma Giles, Lewis Thomas, Anna King.

Cooper & Jackson's show will exhibit here June 27. See advertisement elsewhere.

HERE AND THERE.

The circus is coming. The girls are all gone.

Semi-annual settlements will soon be in order.

The agony is over and the town will now have a rest.

Wheat harvest is now being pushed ahead with vigor.

Green corn has made its appearance in the market.

If you haven't taken down your stoves do so at once as summer has come.

Cooper & Jackson exhibit a baby sea lion, born at winter quarters March 10th, 1881.

Thin coats of every description, for the hot weather at the "Old Reliable," M. Frankel & Sons.

We publish in another column the card of Mr. H. L. Holt, declining the nomination of the Greenback party as a candidate for the Legislature.

Mr. J. Wallace Roberts has bought out the stock of groceries of Taylor & Edmundson, and will continue business at their old stand. He proposes to keep a good stock on hand and solicit the patronage of the public.

Rev. R. J. Beard, formerly pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church of this city, but late of Union Theological Seminary, New York City, will preach at the Cumberland church Wednesday night.

There will be a grand picnic and brand-dance at Empire, Saturday, July 2nd. Morton's Gap string band will furnish music for the occasion. All saloons will be closed and no intoxicating liquors will be sold on the grounds. Strict order will be maintained. Candidates for county offices will be present and address the people. Everybody is invited.

We take pleasure in noting the fact that our young townsman, Jno. Rust, won the highest honors of Bethel College, at Russellville, Ky., and was awarded the valedictory at the late commencement. The subject of his address was "Knowledge is the foundation of modern civilization." The Herald-Enterprise compliments Mr. Rust as having given a good illustration of his subject.

Mr. R. W. Norwood, the efficient express agent at this point is off on a leave of absence till the first of September. During that time he will travel as special agent for the New York Fire Insurance Company. Mr. McKennie, of McKennie's Station, Tenn., will fill his place here during his absence.

Some of our correspondents are getting careless about sending us the news. It is true that our space is limited at this season of the year, but we want short, newsy letters every two or three weeks from the various sections of the surrounding country. Send them in the early part of the week, if possible, so we can put them on the outside pages, which go to press Thursday evening.

Many have been looking forward to the opening ball at Cerulean Springs as quite a source of enjoyment, and had concluded that no hop would be given. We are informed by Mr. Harper that the first ball will be given on the evening of July 1st. Everybody is invited, and let every young man carry a young lady, thereby making it a success.

MARRIED.

COOK-BURBRIDGE: At the Baptist church, Wednesday evening, June 15th, 1881, by Rev. T. G. Keen, Mr. Walter C. Cook to Miss Manie C. Burbridge.

The bride couple preceded by five pairs of attendants entered the crowded church at a few minutes past 8 o'clock. The ceremony was short and impressive, after which the party, accompanied by a few relatives and intimate friends, repaired to the residence of the groom's father, three miles from the city, where a nice reception was given them. The bride was elegantly attired in a dress of white India mul over satin trimmed with lace. Always lovely she looked especially beautiful upon this all important occasion.

The reception given the party by Dr. and Mrs. Cook was one of the most elegant and enjoyable affairs of the kind it has ever been our pleasure to attend. Everything in the way of delicious edibles had been prepared in abundance and nothing that could add to the pleasure of the company was left undone. The bride received many handsome and costly presents, among which we may mention an elegant gold watch and chain, from the groom; handsome silver coffee pot, Dr. E. R. Cook; set of knives, Mrs. E. R. Cook; silver cake basket, Miss Sallie Cook; napkin holder, Frank Cook; berry bowl, Jas. L. Wahl; pair of berry bowls, Miss Emma Campbell; perfume stand, Miss Lizzie Tandy; pair sugar shells and ice tongs, Miss Manie Henry; white satin fan, Miss Corrie Phelps; butter dish, Mrs. C. V. Henry; wash stand set, A. M. Henry; jewelry box, R. E. Burbridge and G. E. Galtner; pickle cator, W. A. Wilson; dinner cator, W. H. Burbridge; sugar bowl with spoons, Charley Burbridge; ice cream ladle, Clarence Burbridge; pickle cator and gold thimble, Mrs. S. H. Burbridge; water service, Jno. M. Lambdin; handsome Marcelline spread, Thos. Burbridge; handsome chain tily, Miss Belle Henry; set of towels, Mrs. M. W. Roach; set of table napkins, Miss Fannie Rogers; silver cake basket, Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Edmunds; handsome pin cushion, Mrs. Mary Tandy; elegant bouquet, Mrs. Dr. Hill; set of pillow slams, Henrietta Boyd.

BETHEL FEMALE COLLEGE.

Sweet Girl Graduates.

The closing exercises of Bethel Female College occupied three evenings of last week. The examinations were conducted at the College during the forenoon. It was our pleasure to be present at several of these, and, though they were very rigid, the young ladies passed through them with credit to themselves and their teachers.

Prof. Solomon's classes in physiology, botany, analysis, algebra and Latin stood especially thorough examinations and in a manner that did credit to their instructor. Prof. Solomon, though yet a young man has made a reputation as a teacher, of which many might be proud. He has been principal of several schools and colleges and has proven himself to be a thorough, earnest and experienced teacher. He is a scholar of much culture, and possesses scientific attainments of the highest order. He is a christian gentleman of unquestionable moral character, and Prof. Rust could find no one better qualified for a professorship in his school. We have ventured these few remarks about Prof. Solomon because he is not as well known to our people as the other members of the faculty, having been here only one year.

Miss Westfall's classes in mental science, trigonometry, grammar and elocution, and Prof. Steinhagen's classes in German and French, evinced a thorough knowledge of the subjects. Indeed all the examinations were excellent, and fully sustained the reputation of the school.

On Tuesday evening the Lotus Literary Society gave an entertainment at the Hall.

MISS MARY GAGE, of Grenada, Miss., upon the subject "Eve's Legacy." Miss Gage is a true daughter of the sunny clime and there is a touch of romance about her that made itself manifest in her essay. We trust we will be pardoned if we step aside to remark that she is a surviving heroine of the yellow fever epidemic. Her home was in that ill-fated town where every family was stricken and every home was a hospital. Others fled in terror, but she remained and helped to nurse and comfort the sick and dying throughout that dreadful scourge, and it seems almost a miracle that she escaped where death was in every home. Miss Gage is greatly admired wherever she is known and at the conclusion of her essay, which was characterized by depth of thought, originality of style and beauty of expression, she was greeted with rounds of applause that showed how highly it was appreciated by those who heard it.

There was one thing peculiar about all of the essays read, the audience could hear every word of them. This was owing mainly to the thorough instruction in elocution the young ladies had received from Miss Westfall, who is a superior elocutionist by far to many professionals. Great attention is devoted to the teaching of this science, for it is such, and no school in the South or West enjoys better facilities for elocutionary instruction than Bethel Female College.

The diplomas were then presented by Prof. Rust with a few appropriate remarks, after which came the address of Hon. Jas. F. Clay, of Henderson, Ky. This address was one of the best, if not the best, ever delivered before a graduating class in this city. It was characterized by deep and profound thought and contained truths clothed in the choicest language. The address was eloquent, logical and instructive. Mr. Clay is an orator of wide reputation and his speech was frequently interrupted by applause.

This ended the entertainments of the week with the exception of the usual Levee at the College. This was given Friday evening, 17th, inst., and the young folks turned out in force. Of course it was highly enjoyed by all. Thus closed one of the most successful sessions of the school that has marked its career for years. May it enjoy many more such.

Mr. A. W. Pyte the furniture dealer, has our thanks for the first ripe peaches we have seen this season.
